

GV150 Week 17 Second Treatise of Government (Part 02) Questions

Lecture:

1. What would be Locke's view on the ruling by the Supreme Court that the government must gain the approval of Parliament to activate Article 50?
2. What are the implications of Locke's views of property accumulation for freedom?
3. What are humans obliged to do with the land that has been granted by God?
4. Can we now see the basis on which Locke reconciles advocacy in favour of the rights of man with his role in the slave trade?
5. Is express consent needed for government to exist?

Reading:

6. What is the relationship between the legislature and the population?
7. What is the first limit of legislative power?
8. What are the limits of the laws that can be made by the legislature, and how does this relate to natural law?
9. Why should the executive and the legislature be separate, according to Locke?
10. What are the specific instances in which 'the people are at liberty to provide for themselves, by erecting a new legislative'?
11. How does Locke argue against those who might suggest that his proposed right to challenge government will lead to anarchy?